Before the Auction

All items are available for examination prior to sale. Bidders are encouraged to examine all items in which they have an interest. We try to accurately to describe the items being sold, but all property offered for sale is strictly "As is, Where is", and with all faults. It is the bidder's responsibility to determine the exact condition and authenticity of each item. No statement whether written or oral, made in the catalog, advertisement, invoice, gallery posting, announcement or comment by the auctioneer, or otherwise, shall be deemed to create any warranty or assumption of liability.

The absence of a condition statement does not imply that the lot is in perfect condition or completely free from wear, defect or effects of ageing.

Unless noted, all items have some amount of acceptable wear, scratches, nicks, etc. Estimates are of market value and are designed to help buyers gauge what sort of sum might be involved for the purchase of a particular lot. Estimates do not include the Buyer's Premium. By bidding, you are entering a contract and you are agreeing that you have either closely examined the items, have chosen not to examine them, or have hired an independent agent to examine the items for you.

Lots are sold "As Is, Where Is" and the buyer agrees to the following:

All information in the catalogue concerning authenticity is guaranteed for a period of thirty (30) days from the date of sale. Within that time, prior to payment to the consignor of the work, the buyer may submit, at his own expense, an opinion in writing from a recognized expert on the work at issue regarding authenticity. In the event the work is judged inauthentic by the expert, the work may be returned in the same condition as at time of sale and the buyer's full purchase price will be refunded. Refunds shall not include costs of transportation, insurance, or other expenses that may have been incurred by the buyer. It is the buyer's responsibility to make payment in a timely fashion such, that the property can be released and inspected within this thirty (30) day time frame.

Akiba Antiques is not responsible for any typographical errors, wear on furniture, flakes, surface scratches, or manufacturing flaws in glass or ceramics.

No warranty is made regarding the condition of artwork frames.

No warranty is made regarding the working condition of watches, clocks, electronic or mechanical devices of any sort or that any such item is in working condition or without defects, restorations, or working parts.

All measurements are approximate..

Akiba Antiques makes no warranty that a buyer acquires any copyright, trademark or reproduction rights as to any lot purchased. Akiba Antiques, reserves the rights to reproduce any image of any lot sold at auction.

Except as stated herein regarding written authenticity, Akiba Antiques does not accept return of items purchased at auction. All Sales are Final.

During the Auction
